Seminar Invitation

We are finding there is more confusion on the subject of business names, trade marks and intellectual property than almost any other area of business.

In some cases clients have found their valuable intellectual property used without their consent. In many of these cases it could have been protected.

To assist clients in understanding this subject and assess their risk and options for protection, we are holding a seminar in conjunction with Hicks Oakley Chessell Williams, Solicitors.

We would be delighted if you could join us at this seminar on Thursday, 14 October 2010, commencing 6:15pm for a 6:30pm start, and concluding at 8:00pm.

We trust you will be able to join us on the night.

However, if this date does not suit you but you would like further details, please do not hesitate to contact Sasha Dean of our office on 03 9802 2533.

Pricing

$40.00 inc. GST per person

This includes your seat at the seminar followed by hot and cold refreshments.

Proceeds from this seminar are donated to WWF-Australia, the conservation organization.
